LISTEN TO THIS: A GUIDE TO WHAT TO LISTEN FOR IN MUSIC

with DR. JUDITH ALSTADTER

If you love classical music, but always wished you knew more about it, these are the programs for you! There will be discussions and demonstrations of various elements of music (melody, rhythm, harmony, etc.), forms of music (sonata, concerto, symphony, etc.) and styles and periods of music (baroque, classical, romantic, contemporary) will be examined. Dr. Alstadter will demonstrate at the piano along with CDs and videos of the works of Vivaldi, Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin, Fauré, Brahms, Ravel, Gershwin, and others. The programs will give concert-goers a broader insight and the concert-beginner a better familiarity with the essentials and appreciation of music.

Thursdays:

July 15, 22, 29, August 5, 2010

The programs are free.

11 AM to 12:30 PM
