with PROFESSOR MARY VAHEY

Thomas Prendergast (American, 1858–1924) was one of the most important American modernists of the early 20th century and the first to respond to the French Post-Impressionist art of Cezanne. His Prendergast in Italy was on exhibit from October 9, 2009 through January 3, 2010. Professor Mary Vahey will discuss the artist's renderings of Venice, Rome, Siena and Capri along with his personal sketchbooks, letters, photographs and guide books.

Rescheduled to: February 22, 2010

The program is free.
